

Press Release:

Mountain Angel Network Invests USD 20,000 in Cameroonian Fintech Startup, Bohikor, Inc.

Bohikor, an early wage access fintech platform for employees based in Buea, Cameroon, has raised USD 20,000 from Mountain Angel Network. Bohikor, Inc., an innovative startup based in Cameroon, is setting new standards in the fintech sector. The company provides a comprehensive suite of financial management tools, including budgeting, tracking, savings, early earned wage access, and personal finance coaching.

Mountain Angel Network's investment will support Bohikor Inc.'s mission to empower individuals across Africa to take control of their financial future. By providing a platform that simplifies personal finance management and introduces new ways of saving and budgeting, Bohikor is democratizing access to financial tools and education. The startup aims to address Africa's significant financial literacy gap and foster economic growth and prosperity.

Bohikor, Inc. is dedicated to creating a more financially inclusive Africa, and this investment will enable them to develop their product suite further and expand their reach to more users. By offering early earned wage access and personal finance coaching, they deliver tangible solutions to real-world challenges many African individuals face.
